So, what's a Skill-Pill?

A Skill-Pill is a 2-minute training or motivational video you can view on your mobile device.

Each Skill-Pill helps the user face an upcoming task, such as delivering a presentation or hosting a creative meeting.

Custom content

Skill-Pills can be tailored for your organisation, to work alongside your existing training programmes or help introduce a new initiative. You can also receive management reports on the usage and effectiveness of the custom Skill-Pills.

What kind of skills are we talking about?

The Skill-Pill Cabinet provides a well stocked 'cabinet' of content, categorised in 5 channels:

- Leadership
- Management
- Sales
- Personal Skills
- Business English

Avatars

What about creating an avatar based on a senior executive from your organisation?

This has proved to be a very effective way of connecting with the workforce. We have completed a wide range of these characters for companies such as Dell, Alstom and Qualcomm.

Where do we get the content?

Skill-Pill is partnered with Pearson Education, the world's largest business publisher.

This partnership ensures that Cabinet Skill-Pills contain valuable advice from leading business thinkers.

Why take one?

Skill-Pills allow learning to break free of the training-room or desktop and accompany you in a taxi, in a waiting area – where and when you need it.

Technology: widgets/applications

A Skill-Pill widget or application, appearing as an icon on your mobile device or BlackBerry, allows you to easily browse and select pills for download, as well as set preferences.

How Skill-Pills work?

Skill-Pills are available in such a wide variety of formats that they can be delivered to anyone.

A pill can be delivered directly to your mobile device via an SMS link, and will download in 2-3 minutes. They can also be viewed on laptops, desktops or iPods.

We can also produce a set of co-branded USB disks, pre-loaded with content. This method of delivery is ideal for conferences or supporting specific training programmes.

You don't need any new technology. The Skill-Pill Cabinet will fully integrate within your corporate intranet.

Make money and save money

Clients have found that our new way of doing things helps save money on refresher training, and helps make money by raising the level of staff performance.

Global expertise

Skill-Pill has already delivered mobile learning videos to 30 countries. The content can be tailored to different languages, such as French or Arabic.

Research

Research conducted by Skill-Pill and FTSE Group, a global index provider, found that Skill-Pills help reduce the need for further or refresher training within the organisation. While Skill-Pills should not replace specialist classroom based training, they can provide effective support to enhance the impact of training-room based learning.
